

If you're here, I know, you know that magic exists... and you're ready to grasp it.

I'm Janet, and I need to tell you something right at the beginning. I'm going to rattle the people-pleasing right outta you. If you spend enough time with me, you'll learn how to live as the most magical version of yourself possible beyond the people-pleasing that's trapping you right now.

If you've spent as much time catering to other people's needs and wants as I have, you may not even know what you need or want. Discovering your Color Superpower Archetype is your first step. Begin by reading about your true essence and superpower. When you tap into that true essence, that's where you will find your magic and your power.

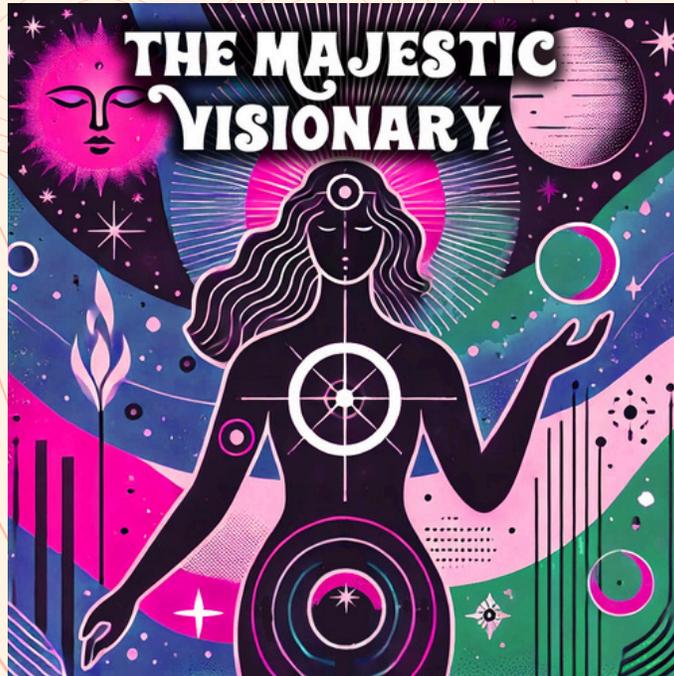

Since I've found my color superpowers, I consistently feel confident in being seen when I walk into a room without even saying a word! It would be a joy to activate that clarity, confidence, love, and power in you, too!

Moonlight Queen

The Majestic Visionary Superpower

The Majestic Visionary Essence: Sophisticated, reflective, and deeply introspective, you're a beacon of wisdom and discernment. Like moonlight on snow, your presence is striking, serene, and commanding. You value structure, precision, and depth.

Deep Desires: To master your craft, live in alignment with your values, and be deeply respected for your inner wisdom. You crave moments of stillness to reflect and recharge.

Shadows: Perfectionism and black-and-white thinking can hold you back, and you may fear that your intensity distances you from people.

Superpowers: Your clarity, keen discernment, and ability to embrace contrasts while analyzing deeply and seeing the bigger picture give you the regal presence of a true leader.

Superpower color: The neutral grounding color of your natural hair. Your color energy thrives in cool, bold, and high-contrast tones.

It's time to remember who you are!

Discovering your unique color harmony is your next step to finding clarity and confidence.
